

Better living with Natural Gas

Continuous flow hot water

Hot water accounts for up to a third of home energy bills. Natural Gas continuous flow systems only heat water as needed which maximises efficiency. They offer a temperature control feature, and hot water that never runs out which is great for peak hours or larger families. If that's not enough to love, their compact design utilises space more efficiently.

Less is more in the laundry

Save time and energy with a natural gas clothes dryer. The instant heat of these advanced appliances will get your laundry dried fast, and cut your ironing time significantly.

Faster, more precise cooking

The best chefs cook with natural gas and with good reason. Natural Gas offers instant heat, precise temperature control and it's always reliable, unlike the power supply. Large burners give fast and authentic results for stir-frying and deep frying so you can enjoy the delicious flavours of your good faster.

A BBQ that never runs out of gas

Make your new house a home with convenient outdoor entertaining. Connecting natural gas directly to your barbecue, outdoor kitchen or outdoor radiant heater gives a constant fuel supply – so no more refilling bottles.

Instant warmth, controllable heat

Whether you're looking for a feature gas log fire or a whole of home heating solution, natural gas offers a huge range of options designed to suit any budget, space and style.

Discover instant warmth on demand and guaranteed comfort on even the coldest of days.

Make your house a home with natural gas.
